-Spectator Notes-

Certainly the most unique Christmas display in town is the "tree" concocted by the San Carlos St. firm of Hudelson & Myers -- made up entirely of pipes and plumbing fixtures! It has to be seen to be appreciated.

- - - - - -

Spotted at Francis Andrews' Carmel Valley house: ace Herald staffer Joe Schoeninger folding the Carmel Valley News. Busman's holiday?

- - - - - -

Mitzi Poyer just back from a highly eventful month in the East, where, among other things, she met her first grandchild (her son, Capt. Charles E. Poyner, is stationed at Norfolk) and made flying visits through New York Chicago, New Jersey and Connecticut. Saw the shows in New York, chatted with old cronies Bea Lillie and Helen Hayes, and heartily concurred with the critics' consensus on Katnerine Hepburn in "The Millionairess": "Worst show I've ever seen."

- - - - - -

Most frustrated character of the week: the beady-eyed hot rodder who spent most of last Sunday gunning his chopped and channeled Ford around and around the Mission Ranch in hopes of enticing one of the flock of sports cars into a "drag." Not a single comer -- the British motoring set ignored him completely.

- - - - - -

Well, the chain letters have come around again, and gone. Seems those hard-up people at the Herald were responsible for starting one headed "A Chain Known Only to Respectable, Serious, Industrious People." So, we bought in to the thing -- and so far, have received no remuneration for our respectable, serious, industrious efforts to make a painless $6,250.00.

- - - - - -

Vince Barletta, well-known and well-liked localite, recently sold his news distributing agency. Vince handled the distribution of the Chronicle and the Spectator. Don't know yet whether or not he's planning on leaving the peninsula for good.

- - - - - -

Betty and Eddie Lucas, long-time Valley residents, left Tuesday for Quincy, California, where they now make their home, after a week's visit to their old haunts. Their daughter, Judy, remains in the Valley with her grandmother, Irene Baldwin, to finish school.

- - - - - -

Now that public interest and indignation has quieted somewhat over the abstract murals overlooking radioman Jay Hannah's front yard, Jay is considering work on another big panel -- a real dilly -- just to keep the brawl rolling.

- - - - - -

The Highlands Inn has purchased the liquor license formerly belonging to the Carmel Valley Country Club. Notice of application for the permanent license, to be effective as of January 1, is posted in this week's Spectator.

- - - - - -

At the present writing, Valleyites are still having to wend their way down into the "ditch" below that big, soggy slide on the Valley Road. Boulders are still falling intermittently, and several people had narrow escapes last week from falling debris and rocks.

- - - - - -

Carmel drivers have their own worries now that the rains have come: the annual reappearance of those bucket-sized potholes in the main approaches to the town.

- - - - - -

An anonymous dog was twice apprehended making off Wednesday from the direction of Knudsen's Carmel Poultry Shop with a fully dressed chicken in his mouth. An alert service station operator retrieved one of the birds, but the dog made a clean getaway with the other.

Frank Wynkoop, the man behind one of the most unusual and controversial houses in Carmel, turns out to be a modest, serious fellow who came up in the architectural profession the hard way.

Born in Denver, Colorado, Wynkoop moved with his family as a child to Los Angeles, where his father was in the printing business. Most of his schooling was received while the family was in Southern California.

The advent of World War I broke into his high school education, and he never formally graduated. To compensate for this lack, he sent himself through night school, concentrating primarily on engineering. It was at this time, scarcely out of his teens, that Wynkoop opened his first office, as an architectural designer.

In 1925 Wynkoop moved to Seattle, obtained his Washington architectural license, and spent several years in practice with other architects of the city. Among the many buildings on which he worked during this period was the Edmond Meany Hotel in Seattle, for which he did both the design and the interior decorating. Built in 1929, the hotel was considered a radical departure from the conventional. Its most unique feature is the plan; thirteen stories in height, the building has 156 rooms, each of which is located on a corner. The novel design was featured by Ripley in his "Believe It Or Not."

In 1932 Wynkoop returned to California, establishing a partnership in Fresno; after obtaining his California license, he opened his own office in Bakersfield, specializing in work on schools and other public buildings. His operations were further expanded in 1942, when he opened his San Francisco office. There, during the war years, he engaged in work on large scale housing projects.

The main office was transferred to Carmel barely a year ago, in January. The move was motivated both by business and personal reasons; the Wynkoops wished to build their home in this area; and Carmel was a central location from which to direct his statewide business. At the present time, Wynkoop operates two branch offices, in San Carlos and Fresno. As before, his work is primarily in schools and public buildings.

Prior to the move, the Wynkoops spent several months looking for a hilltop site on which to build their home; more or less by chance, they were introduced to the spectacular piece of property on the Carmel Point ocean front, and from that point on were absorbed with its challenging possibilities.

Wynkoop gives much of the credit of his unorthodox house to his vivacious wife, Virginia. Among the features which have attracted a steady stream of gaping visitors and passers-by is the unusual roof, which sweeps upward from the center of the house, forming a shallow V with a deep overhang on the ocean side. This form, explains Wynkoop, helps deflect wind from the porch and the enclosed patio -- the latter containing a free-form, radiant-heated, swimming pool. The circular chimneyless fireplace in the main room (which Wynkoop claims was his wife's idea) is intended to be more decorative than functional; smoke will be carried by down-draft to a vent on the side of the house. Latest eye-catching detail is the tall "weather-vane" sculpture which sprouts from the rock-garden in front of the house; designed to revolve with the wind, the silvery abstract (which is titled "Albatross") was commissioned by Wynkoop from Djey Owens, Monterey artist.

The Wynkoops expect to be in their new home by Christmas, a double occasion anticipated by the whole family, which includes Jay, 11, a student at Sunset school, and Sharon, 14, Janis, 15, and Nancy, 16, all three of whom attend Carmel High School.

At the moment, Wynkoop is engaged primarily in school work in Pacific Grove and other parts of the state. Of special local interest, however, is his proposed rebuilding and remodeling of the old stone house on Carmel Point originally owned by Dr. Green and long a familiar landmark on Scenic Drive.

NEW GOLDEN BOUGH PRODUCTION

Tonight marks the opening of the beautiful big stage of the new Golden Bough Playhouse. The bill is a swift and exciting production of Shakespeare's great tragicomedy, "The Merchant of Venice," by the famous Barter Theatre of Virginia.

The performance will be repeated at a matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, and again tomorrow night. Tickets may be obtained at the Golden Bough box office, or may be reserved uptown at the Browse-Around Music Shop.

STAMP CLUB:MEETING

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will meet on Monday, December 15, at 8 p.m. in the lounge of the Carmel High School.

There will be trading and sale of stamps. All philatelists on the Peninsula are cordially invited to attend.

TELEPHONE COMPANY SEEKS LOCAL RATE INCREASE

APPLICATION SUBMITTED TO COMMISSION

Pacific Telephone applied to the California Public Utilities Commission today for a rate increase varying by cities. For residence telephones in Carmel, the requested increases ranged from 15¢ to 70¢ a month.

For the State as a whole the proposed increase figures out to an average of 3 1/2¢ per telephone a day.

"Higher rates are necessary because of inflation as reflected in higher costs of materials and supplies, increased taxes and higher wage costs," D. D. Muir, manager of the telephone company said.

In six post-war years, Pacific Telephone has spent $815,000,000 in California for service improvement and expansion, more than doubling the telephone plant in service. In 1952-53, the company plans to put an additional $326,000,000 in California to bring the total to more than a billion dollars in less than a decade.

Typical rates applicable in Carmel are as follows:

	Present	Proposed
1 party residence	4.55	5.25
2 party residence	3.75	4.10
4 party residence	3.20	3.35
1 party business	9.25	10.75

Also proposed is a one party message rate service for business customers. The rate would be $6.25 allowing 85 messages with 4¢ for each additional message.

MALE CHORUS PROGRAM

The Peninsula Male Chorus, directed by John Barr, will perform this Sunday at 5 p.m. in the Carmel Woman's Club.

Community singing and refreshments will fill out the program. The public is cordially invited, free of charge.

1953 ARTS BALL PLANS REVEALED

Plans are already under way for the 1953 Arts Ball to be held at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach, Saturday, February 7, under the sponsorship of the Carmel Art Association.

A meeting was held this week at Pebble Beach, attended by Patricia Cunningham, General Chairman for the affair; Mrs. Kathryn Aurner, Chairman of Events for the Art Association; Mrs. Gustav Erbe, Secretary of the Executive Committee; S. F. B. Morse, Chairman of the Executive Committee; James Cunningham and Richard Osborne, members of the Executive Committee.

"A Night With The Gods" is the theme chosen for the Ball and pageant, and guests attending the affair will come garbed in the dress of the Classic Period, giving great latitude in the choice of costumes covering the 5th Century Greek and Roman era.

This year's Arts Ball, also held at Del Monte Lodge, was a huge success, attended by more than 800, and the 1953 event promises to be even more spectacular.

TOURIST BUREAU MEETING TONIGHT

The Tourist and Convention Committee of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce are holding a cocktail and dinner meeting tonight at 7 p.m. at the San Carlos Hotel's new supper room.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss how to further develop the Tourist Industry on the Monterey Peninsula.

The cocktail party preceeding the dinner is being sponsored by the Beverage Industry of the Monterey Peninsula.

All members of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce and Service Clubs are urged to bring their wives and friends to hear about what has been done so far to develop the area's number one Industry and what can be done in the future. There will be a question and answer period to invite public ideas.

Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m. and the dinner at 7:30 p.m. A floor and dancing will follow the meeting. No charge will be made for the cocktails; the dinner will be $2.50 per plate.

"QUEEN FOR A DAY" VISITS PENINSULA

Millions of people should know something more about Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula as the result of Mr. Charles Reed, manager of Highlands Inn, bringing "Queen for a Day" in the person of Mrs. Curtis Gibson to the peninsula last week end.

"Queen for a Day" is shown on TV to some seven million persons its sponsors claim and on the Mutual radio network it has some 13 million listeners. On TV, pictures of the scenic coastline around Highlands Inn were shown, and on the radio show its beauties were described.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed met the Queen and her husband in Los Angeles and took them to breakfast at the New Hotel Statler. Then they drove up the scenic Coast Route.

The several days the couple were here they were shown some of the outstanding points of interest on the Peninsula, and were entertained at several outstanding restaurants including Cerrito's at the Wharf for Monterey's famous fish dinners and Mark Thomas's Hearthstone for a real gourmet repast. They were also guests at the

NOTED CHOIR AT ALL SAINTS'

The choir from St. Marks Episcopal Church on the University of California campus at Berkeley will appear in a concert of sacred and secular music tomorrow evening at 7:30 at All Saints Episcopal Church in Carmel.

The concert is open to all music lovers, and is presented as a Christmas gift to the community by the Musical Art Club and All Saints Episcopal Church.

The choir is one of the outstanding groups of its kind in the San Francisco Bay Area. In a recent appearance, the choir was invited to sing at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco for the convention of the American Guild of Organists. The group is familiar to Carmel music lovers, having sung in All Saints Church during the last Bach Festival.

The repertoire of the choir includes music from the Baroque period through the modern. Tomorrow's program will range from motets by 15th and 16th century composers to the Mass by Stravinsky, composed in 1948. The concert should be a rewarding one to all admirers of fine choral music.

new three dollar hand bags

at the MASON'S

Tuesday afternoon, you'd have thought we had new $3 gift handbags running out of our ears: three big cartons of them. Margaret put them in the window and the response was immediate.

But there are still plenty of them, although, at the rate you are buying them, they might not last too long.

It's a long story as to how we got them -- but, in our opinion, one of the finest handbag buyers in New York personally selected them.

All, naturally, are of plastic -- but that means wonderful wear. And there are patent, smooth and morrocco-grain types. Envelopes, top-handle, three-part frames are the styles. And most of the bags have inside zippers. Colors: black, brown, navy, red.

And, remember: only three dollars (plus federal tax, of to paying.)

Also, there is still a good selection of better bags -- genuine leather -- at $5 to $12.50. But we do suggest you make your selection soon. Handbags are generally a last-minute purchase and, hang it all, I don't know of a store in the country able to keep a good selection right up to the last minute.

You might also want a scarf, gloves, handkerchiefs and such to go with the handbag. We have them, too.

Now we go from cabbages to kings: And we consider Callaway towels the king of the towel business. Nice colors -- not garish -- but good, vibrant colors that make your bathroom as smart as any room in your home.

A new shipment of Callaways just came in Tuesday, too, in most of the colors. If you want to match sets, better hurry. The selection was complete Tuesday -- but you know what can happen in three days time.

You know our address: Dolores, between fifth and sixth. Phone: 7-3836. And you receive S & H Green Trading Stamps with your purchase.

A Review of "THE GIRL FROM OUT YONDER"

Returning to lighter fare after a successful stint at heavy drama, the Troupers of California's First Theater are currently presenting "The Girl From Out Yonder," a comedy drama directed by Lydia Markow and produced by Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous.

The story concerns the trials and tribulations of a noble-hearted lighthouse keeper and his winsome daughter, Flotsam, whose love for a high-minded society man precipitates a drama of mistaken identities, false accusations and, inevitably, virtue and justice triumphant.

In the title role of "The Girl" Jeanne Rutledge, well known to First Theater audiences, gives a lively and delightful performance which flavors the entire production. Her "heavy" scenes evoked genuine tears from sympathetic ladies in the front rows.

John Kidwell does well by the part of Captain Barton, the keeper of the light, and appears later in the Olio as a surprisingly adroit magician. Joseph Tyree plays the society man who loves the lighthouse keeper's daughter with appropriate restraint and gentility.

Also appearing in the competent cast are Mary Burton, as a snide debutante, Madeline Hicks as a coy widow, Lenore Shager as a society matron, Frank Murphy as a blueblooded playboy, and Daniel Donovan as a young fisherman who competes for the hand of the heroine. Milton Thornton plays the Captain's salty crony and returns in the Lio as a capable MC.

Special mention goes to Erica Franke for her brightly colorful and effective sets, and to Rhoda Johnson, who designed and executed period costumes.

"The Girl from Out Yonder" will be repeated on successive Saturdays, at 8:15, closing on February 14.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They'll Do It Every Time

You know where Hammy Jackson lives—on that small dead-end street off Maple Avenue near the library? Well, about a month ago, the town finally put up a sign on the corner there saying: "No thoroughfare . . . Dead End."

Yesterday Hammy dropped by to see us. "Can't understand it," he says. "Hardly anybody drove down our street before—but, now, since they put that sign up, there's been more cars than ever turning around in my driveway."

From where I sit, these people who bother Hammy on his one-way street are the same as those who automatically ignore a Wet Paint sign and touch their finger on a freshly painted surface. But you can't change human nature. People like to find out for themselves—and then make their own decisions.

That's why I say "live and let live." You can drink your buttermilk, but let me have my glass of beer when I choose. And let's not feel we're obliged to "point the way" for the other fellow.

"MERCHANT OF VENICE" AT BOUGH TONIGHT

Lovely Dinah Farr as Nerissa in "The Merchant of Venice" which the Barter Theatre of Virginia is presenting at the Golden Bough Theatre on December 12th and 13th.

Mrs. Reichard remarked that the group was particularly fascinated and delighted by the show at the First Theater. Most of the students had never seen melodrama, nor been to a theater where audience participation was invited.

The enthusiastic response of the students to the weekend as a whole was reflected in the gracious thank-you notes received by Mrs. Reichard. Wrote one student from Pakistan, "Hospitality, thy name is America."

ORGAN SOCIETY CHRISTMAS PARTY

The William B. Skowran home in the Carmel Highlands was the setting last Saturday evening for the annual Christmas party of the Hammond Organ Society, with about fifty in attendance.

After a very sumptuous pot luck dinner served by the ladies of the group, presents were distributed from a thirty foot Christmas tree in the large living room.

The entertainment started with the singing of Christmas Carols by all present, accompanied on the Hammond organ by James Farlinger, and on the piano by Mrs. Farlinger.

For the remainder of the evening the group was entertained by duets on the Hammond organ and piano by the several organists present, with Dr. Montgomery of Salinas at the piano; a special solo on the Hammond was presented by Mrs. Skowran.

This group meets regularly once each month and any one interested in organ music is welcome. Please call 7-4390 for further information.

FOREIGN STUDENTS ENJOY WEEKEND ON PENINSULA

A weekend in Carmel recently resulted in a group of foreign students from Stanford University becoming unofficial, but highly enthusiastic boosters for the Monterey Peninsula.

The 29 students, representing 17 different countries, visited Carmel last weekend under the auspices of the Stanford University Club of the Monterey Peninsula.

Mrs. D.F. Reichard of Carmel was largely responsible for the arrangements made for the guests, which included dinner at Fisherman's Wharf, a tour of the Peninsula, and reservations for the opening of "The Girl from Out Yonder" at the First Theater in Monterey.

FORT ORD CHRISTMAS WISH

A special pre-Christmas present was made to many soldiers at Fort Ord today when they were notified they would be discharged from the Army in time to be home for Christmas.

A Department of Defense directive has specified that Army personnel shceduled for discharge between December 20 and January 5, with some exceptions, will be released not later than December 19.

This does not include men of the following three categories: (1) Enlisted reserve personnel who want to complete their reserve obligation can be retained until their terms of service expire; (2) Draftees who voluntarily extend their activity duty one year to complete their service obligation under the selective service law; (3) Draftees eligible for early release because of Korean service, must complete the full 21 months.

DICKENS MUSICAL AT GOLDEN BOUGH

One of the outstanding events of the Christmas season promises to be the new production "What The Dickens", a musical adaptation of Dickens' beloved "Christmas Carol," sponsored by the Carmel Kiwanis Club. The musical will be presented at the Golden Bough Playhouse, opening Thursday, December 18th, and playing nightly through December 23rd.

The script is written by Mike Monchan, with music and lyrics by Ric Masten and Don Adams -- the same ambitious team which created the two highly successful musical reviews "That's The Ticket" and "This Is It." Directing the production is David Eldridge.

Heading the cast of 45 are Tom Fadden, well-known local actor, in the part of the arch-miser Scrooge, and Dick Cummins as Tiny Tim. Other local notables taking part in the production are Ruth McElroy, Dee Olivetti, Millie Kimball, Betty Fowlston, Mike Elson, Blake Lyle, Jimmy Griffin, Don Peterson, and Robin Burnham. Jim Wright of Palo Alto will take one of the singing leads.

Commenting on the forthcoming production, Dick Sumner, representing the local Kiwanians, said that the organization hopes to make the musical an annual presentation. Sumner added that "What The Dickens" is in no way a farcical treatment of the Dickens story; every attempt has been made to retain all the endearing qualities of the original.

Tickets will be sold by members of the local Kiwanis group next week, and may also be purchased at Staniford's Drug Store in Carmel.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CHILDREN'S CHOIR

The Children's Choir of All Saints' Episcoapl Church, Carmel, will sing the anthem "Lead Me, Lord" by S. S. Wesley at the 11 o'clock service this coming Sunday, December 14. Harold Campbell and Joseph Reaney will be the featured soloists.

The Children's Choir sings regularly every Sunday for the Family Service at 9:30. The children's ages range from 9 to 11. The choir practices every Thursday afternoon under the able direction of Miss Ann Thoeni. Danny Marshall, pupil of Robert M. Forbes and high school student, is the choir's organist.

SUNSET PRESENTS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The faculty and students of Sunset School have extended to the community a cordial invitation to their Christmas pageant, which will take place on Thursday evening, December 18th, at 8:00 p.m. in the Sunset School Auditorium. There will also be an afternoon performance on Wednesday, December 17th, at 1:15 for those who are unable to attend Thursday evening.

Each year the school presents to the community the traditional Christmas story. This year the boys and girls of Sunset bring a production with added warmth. In the words of the script, "it is a story that is always new." The school choir, directed by Mr. Holman, will present the traditional carols. Mr. Buckman, the new art instructor, has arranged the production, with a beautiful set being provided by Mr. Calley and his stage crew.

All members of the seventh grade are participating in the production, with each doing his bit to make the program a success. The major speaking parts will be handled by Brian Cassidy and Fred Nelson. Featured as angels will be Joseph Mason, Christopher Jones, Kay McFail, Robin Way, Heather Hamilton, and Susan Trevvett.

Appearing as characters in the tableau will be Jana Miles, Ethel Walls, Bart Ehman, Robert Marshall, Ward Keesling, Jerry Stuefloton, Robert Moorman, Arden Hampton, Pepper Lane, and Patricia Petty.

SPORTSMEN'S CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Carmel Associated Sportsmen, Inc., will hold their annual Christmas meeting next Thursday night, December 18th, at 8:00 p.m., in the Carmel High School library, it was announced by Hal Boyd, president of the club.

Among the important business to be discussed at the meeting are plans concerning the Junior Sportsmen's Group. All members of the club are urged to be present.

Following the meeting, gifts from the Sportsmen's Christmas tree will be distributed, and light refreshments will be served to conclude the festivities for members, their families, and their guests.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE BEGINS

Mrs. Paul Hamerly, Seal Sale Chairman of the Monterey County Tuberculosis and Health Association, wishes to call the attention of the public to the fact that the Association does not use the "door to door" personal solicitation technique. "Any seals sold in this manner are not to be confused with those sold to raise funds to fight tuberculosis," stated Mrs. Hamerly.

The traditional fund raising campaign of this and more than 3,000 county tuberculosis associations throughout the country is by the annual mail sale of Christmas Seals. "Our own Board of Directors," continues Mrs. Hamerly, "established the policy that funds will be raised solely through mail solicitation and certain supplementary methods, such as a coin box "self-seller" dispensing containers, placed throughout the communities for the benefit of those who do not receive Christmas Seals in the mail.

The 1952 Christmas Seal was designed by Tom Darling of Amityville, New York. He featured the double barred cross, which is the international symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, because the seals went into countless homes throughout the country. He added the lighted candle in the old fashioned holder to "light it up."

PEBBLE BEACH

BIG NORTHERN CALIFORNIA SPORTS CAR RALLY HERE

Wet weather not withstanding, over 250 members of various Northern California sports car clubs motored to the Peninsula last Sunday for a rally sponsored by the Pebble Beach Sports Car Club. Visitors from as far north as Ukiah arrived in their sleek cars to participate in the day-long event, first of its kind in Northern California.

The enthusiasts in their mud-spattered speedsters convened at Mission Ranch for the main event of the day, a get-together luncheon presided over by "Holly" Hills of the Pebble Beach club. Among the clubs represented were such exclusive organizations as the Square Wheel Touring Society of Marin County, the Avant-Garde Sports Car Clique, the Four-Cylinder Club and the Redwood Highway Sports Car Club, as well as groups from Stockton, Santa Rosa, King City, Los Gatos, San Mateo and the San Francis- Region. Presidents of each visiting club were "decorated" by Al Wintringham of Carmel eith oversize medals appropriately inscribed with "Hero Driver."

Preceding the luncheon, the visiting clubs were escorted on a tour of the Peninsula by Glen Sorey and Art Bennet of Carmel. Saturday night the Bob Bairds held a reception in their Carmel home for early arrivals from out of town and members of the local club.

The rally was concluded with a motorcade of more than 90 cars proceeding from Mission Ranch to Monterey and an informal parade through the center of town. The clubs then regrouped for the trip home, with plans for a repetition of the highly successful event in the near future.

A few of the more than 100 sports cars which gathered at Mission Ranch last Sunday for the Northern California rally sponsoredby the Pebble Beach Sports Car Club, are shown in the first and third pictures(taken, by the way, in the rain, which dampened everything except the enthusiasm of the 250 sports car club members present.) The sleek silver Aston-Martin (center photo), driven by a member of one of the visiting clubs, was generally the prima donna of the many beautiful and unusual cars participating in the event.

MEMO to a busy homemaker When you manage a household, care for your family and carry your fair share of civic responsibilities, time becomes important in your life. It may seem a minor thing—to call a number of friends and inform them that next week's club meeting will be at Jane's home instead of Ruth's. But even such a minor chore takes time. Will you let us give you a time-saving tip? Start a personal number book. You'll be surprised at how much time it will save. And if you check these numbers from time to time—keeping them up-to-date—you'll also avoid the embarrassment of calling wrong numbers.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED BY TEACHER' S ASSOCIATION

A $100 scholarship, to go to a 1953 graduate of Monterey Peninsula College who wishes to continue his education in order to enter teaching as a profession, was set up by the Monterey City Teachers Association at its meeting of December 4th. The group made a strong recommendation that this fund be set up on a yearly basis, making the scholarship a permanent one serving as an annual aid to worthy students desirous of entering the teaching profession.

"One of the major objectives of our organization -- that of improving the quality of teachers and of teaching -- can be forwarded immensely through such a concrete aid to potentially fine teachers desirous of entering this field," stated Virginia Johnson, club president.

INSURANCE WAGE REPORTS DUE

Saturday, January 31, 1953 is the deadline for filing California unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns covering the fourth quarter of 1952, R. H. Trappe, Auditor in Charge for the State Department of Employment in Monterey, today reminded employers.

Penalty and interest charges will be added to the amount of contributions if the report is filed after the deadline, Trappe said.

Under California law, employers may have an additional two days within which to file and pay their State unemployment insurance returns for this quarter; however, this additional time may not apply under Federal law. Therefore, employers who are subject to the Federal Unemployment Tax Act and are required to file a return with the Director of Internal Revenue are cautioned to file and pay their California unemployment insurance returns by no later than January 31, 1953, in order to assure themselves of the maximum Federal tax credit offset.

Employers needing assistance in preparing their returns may contact Mr. Trappe at 465 Pacific or by telephoning 5-4191.

PUBLIC INVITED TO ORD REVIEW

The public is cordially invited to a review of the 6th Infantry Division and other Fort Ord troops on Saturday morning at 10:30, Major General Robert B. McClure, division commander, will be reviewing officer.

Six citations will be awarded, including the Distinguished Service Cross to M/Sgt. William D. Cathcart of Hq. Battery, 1st Field Artillery, and a Silver Star to Sgt. Roger M. DeRoos, Hq. 6230 Reception Center.

Besides soldiers from the training regiments and special troops, a platoon of recently returned Korean veterans will march. The 6th Infantry Division Band will furnish the martial music.

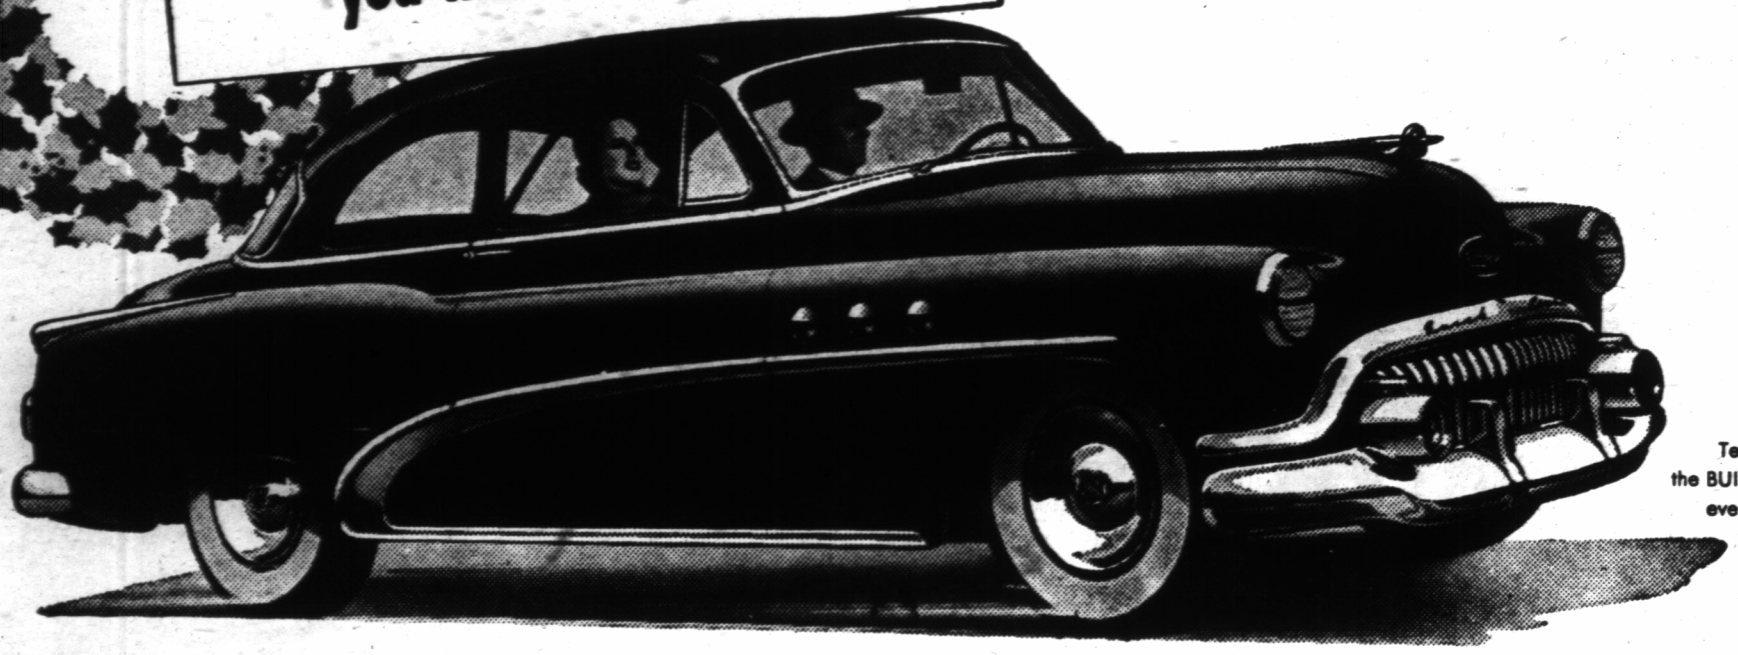
POWER STEERING on the Roadmaster and Super



Television treat—
the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—
every fourth Tuesday

How would you like the fun of Christmastime to last all the year through?

That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own—what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.

The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.

The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort—plus the cheery thought that nowhere else can you get as much room for the money.

The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid thrift of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head—and also high-compression.

The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady—with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.

The cheer of taking your travel free and easy—with Dynaflow Drive* doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness—with Power Steering assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.

Even the price is a cheerful note here—low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-named "low-price three."

That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.

Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.
